

Archibald J. Motley Jr., Blues, 1929. Oil on canvas, 36 x 42 inches. Collection of Mara Motley, MD, and Valerie Gerrard Browne. Image courtesy of the Chicago History Museum, Chicago, Illinois. © Valerie Gerrard Browne.

Columbia College Chicago and the Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events present Archibald Motley: Jazz Age Modernist at the Chicago Cultural Center

EVENINGS for EDUCATORS

March 24th and April 28th, 4:30-7:00 pm

The Chicago Cultural Center, 78 E. Washington, Yates and Exhibition Halls, 4th Floor North Teacher Presentations from 5:00-6:00, Garland Room, 1st Floor

These evenings events will present K-12 teachers with opportunities to look, learn, and connect with the main themes of Motley's work: Identity, Migration, and the experience of Chicago's Bronzeville. The program presents strategies to incorporate the visual arts into the classroom with activities that explore the artistic process, approach works of art as primary sources, and emphasize the parallels between the visual arts and core content areas. Educators will hear from CPS teachers who developed lesson plans around Motley's work and enjoy tours of the exhibition. Teachers also receive curriculum materials containing a thematic essay, art images and descriptions, suggested discussion questions, lesson plans, and related resources. All programs are interdisciplinary and are developed to meet Illinois state content standards.

The program is free, but space is limited and teachers must register in advance at <https://ilaea.org/>, please scroll down to Archibald Motley Evenings for Educators-choose the date that works the best for you. Please make sure you are logged in to the IAEA website to register for events on March 24th at <https://ilaea.org/event-calendar/2015/03/archibald-motley-evenings-for-educators/> and April 28th <https://ilaea.org/event-calendar/2015/04/archibald-motley-evenings-for-educators-2/>. Teachers can access the lesson plans in advance at: <http://www.motley.colum.edu>. Professional Teacher Development workshops are also available for interested teachers on February 28th and March 14th with CPDU credit. Advanced registration required.

